

Robin Bray

I have been involved with horses for over 40 years, beginning with a naughty pony in our back yard in the middle of town. My parents also had a couple of Quarter Horses and a fat Tennessee Walker at our cattle ranch. After much begging, I took dressage and jumping lessons for several years before focusing on saddleseat with my first horse, an Arabian. I have shown Arabians for nearly 30 years, in almost all divisions, competing at Regional and National levels. In addition to my GVHS card, I also hold USEF cards in Arabians and Friesians, with plans to obtain my Morgan card. I've also judged many All-Breed shows and State Fairs and enjoy all aspects of judging multiple breeds.

In addition to judging, I also have managed our Arabian Club's USEF rated horse show for the past 6 years and served as local membership chair and board member. I am currently the Arkansas delegate on the Region 9 board.

I currently live with my husband, a retired Arabian trainer, and our son, on our farm, where we board a variety of breeds and care for our own geriatric herd. Our son has been showing since he was 8, and we enjoy supporting his horse "habit". Outside of horses, I'm a licensed attorney and business owner with my husband.

I fully believe that horse shows should be fun and the judging fair and honest. I would love to be involved with your show.
