

Adam Longman is an avid horse professional located in Western Minnesota. Adam started his horse "career" showing in the youth and amateur divisions in the Miniature Horse and Shetland Pony world, soon advancing to professional status with the opening of Longman Stables. During his professional show career has garnered multiple National and World Championships in halter and performance (driving) divisions as well as coaching multiple youth, amateurs and disabled exhibitors to their successes in the show ring. Adam has been the breeder of equally as many National and World Champion horses and continues to strive for the same success by researching pedigrees, studying performance and conformation and evaluation of animals. Adam currently holds judges cards for the following registries: USEF, GVHS, TGCA, WPCSA, and GHRA, and has completed many judges clinics and seminars to remain proficient in the judging position, but is always striving to learn from exhibitors and fellow judges!
