Dr. Nikki Milligan

My name is Dr. Nikki Milligan. I am a rural mixed animal veterinarian, business owner, and passionate Gypsy Vanner breeder with over 13 years of experience in the breed. I have seen a lot happen in this breed over that time. My husband, 3 sons, and I own and operate Footloose Farm in South Carolina, where we have dedicated ourselves to producing quality Gypsy Vanners with exceptional conformation, temperament, and breed characteristics. As a graduate of the University of Georgia College of Veterinary Medicine and owner of Footloose Veterinary Services, I bring a unique combination of veterinary expertise, business leadership, breeding knowledge, and firsthand experience within the equine industry. Our breeding program has produced successful horses, including champions, while our stallion, FLF Biscuits 'n Gravy ("McDreamy"), has earned GVHS Hall of Fame recognition. I believe the future of our breed depends on preserving breed standards, promoting responsible breeding, supporting education, and creating opportunities for ALL members, regardless of whether they are seasoned breeders, first-time owners, or simply enthusiasts. If elected, I will advocate for transparency, fairness, professionalism, and a welcoming environment where every member feels heard and valued. I believe leadership should be about serving the membership, not personal recognition or individual interests. I am not running to change what makes our breed special. I am running to help protect it, strengthen our community, and ensure its future for generations to come. I would be honored to earn your vote and represent you on the GVHS Board of Directors.
